

of my objections to anything in the nature of publicity, but having had so much of it a little more or less makes no difference. I think you will say of course. I agree, that there is nothing to it, but I felt I must pass it on considering the way it had come.

I am also sending the other letter which Louis forwarded. Please don't think me too excited! They sound good to me especially as I know how far from the mark they are.

No more letters from Lunitas, but there was one on the phone yesterday. Persuading me to come & have a heart to heart talk with her. She really is mad & I must go over her with a compassion. She is in H.B. -
